738 and 722 S. Charles St. (the two corner houses) are the oldest houses on this side of the 700 block of S. Charles St., having been built in the period between 1810 and 1825, or perhaps earlier. 738 S. Charles St. is two and a half stories in height, four bays wide on S. Charles St. and two bays wide on W. Montgomery St., with a dormer window facing both streets. The first floor area most recently served as a local grocery and there is a late, corner storefront entrance set diagonally to the corner of S. Charles and Montgomery Streets. 722 S. Charles St. is a two and a half story, two bay wide brick house built by a local house carpenter, Thomas Hollingsworth, that shows the one room deep floor plan used in the earliest Federal-style houses built in the area. The remaining houses on the street are all three stories in height and two bays wide. All were originally built with gable roofs, like the present-day 734, 732, 730, 726, and 724 S. Charles St., but 728 and 736 S. Charles St. were remodeled after the Civil War in the currently fashionable Italianate style and now have shed roofs and bracketed cornices. This group of three story houses was built in 1850-1851 to serve as combination storefront/residences for the increasing number of small shopkeepers moving into the area to meet the needs of the growing population.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This three story gable roofed structure was built between 1849 and 1851 as part of a group of such houses extending along this side of Charles St. Like most of its neighbors, its first floor has been converted into a shop front.

The house is a full three stories in height, 14' wide and extends back on its lot about . It is constructed in running bond. The house has a low-pitched gable roof with a rectangular-shaped chimney on its south side. There is a simple brick cornice. The window openings of the second and third floors have segmentally arched brick lintels with scroll sawed tympanum. The sills are wood. No original sash remains and the openings are boarded. A modern panel door has replaced the original and the transom area has been filled in with brickwork.

The original first floor window has been converted into a shop-front display window by the addition of a projecting wooden bay window capped by a simply molded wooden cornice. The bay window is currently boarded up. The house sits on a very low basement, the entrance being reached by a single stone stoop. The cellar bulkhead is located on the sidewalk, under the first floor window.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT William Wight

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This house is significant as being representative of a large group of three story gable roofed houses built in the 1840's and 1850's to serve as combination residential/commercial structures. The first floor area served as a store-front and the family lived on the two floors above. Buildings of this type served the needs of a growing community which was attracting an influx of small shop-keepers to provide goods and services for the local residents.

The house was built by William Wight as part of a row of such houses extending from 724 to 730 S. Charles St. The house has recently been sold by the City to a private owner and hopefully will soon be restored.
